

Dear Frankie, and the expanded Glick family.

In talking with family members and kitah friends, it is clear that Phil touched every person who knew him in meaningful ways. So many described a special, deep, and unique connection with Phil. What an amazing trait it is to weave such individual, enduring strands .

In trying to capture some of Phil's personality aspects, I am drawn to his strength, his independence, a certain matter-of-fact attitude, a deep core of humor, his healing abilities, and a pulsating, positive energy that imbued his deeds and interactions.

Phil was a man's man: a powerful body, good with his hands, skilled with tools, a capable builder, a natural animal whisperer, and such a handsome lad - oh my! His keen observation of people and nature led him to capture special moments and perspectives with his eyes, his heart, and through his camera lens. A constant drive to see what's beyond the bend kept him behind the figurative and literal wheel of many a vehicles, for so many decades of open-road explorations, and deep conversations with his passengers.

Intuitive and learned understandings of the forces and mechanisms that propel the human body and heart, allowed Phil to reach deep into people's muscular and emotional constellations, gently yet firmly work knotted tissues with his strong hands, and help so many find ease and release, and their paths of healing.

With a deep adoration and rock-solid devotion to his family, Phil set his life's orbits around traveling, visiting, ongoing conversations, and support for his children and their children.

Phil: a man of strength, heart, family, healing, humor, and friendship. A true mensch .

May the meandering, powerful, sweeping currents of Phil's life and love carry you on, and may his memory be a blessing to you all.
